Description

Matcha Tea has been used for millennia in Japan in the popular tea ceremonies. It is made of tea leaves grown in the shade, avoiding direct sunlight and stimulating the growth of chlorophyll. Only the finest tea buds are collected and dried to create the fine bright green powder. It has a unique and distinctive flavour. The higher the quality, the sweeter and less astringent the taste. Our Matcha is ceremonial grade, it also contains high levels of antioxidants. Matcha Tea can also be used as a food ingredient in the preparation of numerous dishes.
