Additional Information

Hydrolysed marine collagen is rich in amino acids

The collagen we use comes from fish. A recent study (J Agric Food Chem 55(4) 1532-1535 (2007)) has shown the body assimilates collagen sourced from the sea rather than from other sources such as from mushrooms more easily. The collagen we use has undergone a unique process in which it is broken down into tiny fragments, so that the body can easily absorb them.

Magnesium and calcium in citrate form

Oseogen® joint capsules contain essential minerals such as calcium and magnesium. We have added these in their citrate forms.

The quality of the shark cartilage

The shark cartilage we use for this product has a high percentage of chondroitin (10%) and glucosamine (17%).
