Not all moments of the day are the same. During the day our needs are different to those at night.

Therefore, Drasanvi's Flavogen® Biphase is a great supplement that gives you capsules specially formulated to be taken during the day with capsules formulated for the night all in one pack.

Soya free

Flavogen® Biphase unlike many other products that regulate hormonal activity, is free from soya. This offers all those people who are soya intolerant a fantastic alternative.

Containing innovative phytoestrogens from extracts tested and approved by scientific studies

Flavogen® Biphase replaces the phytoestrogen from soya with innovative phytoestrogen from hops. This phytoestrogen is 8PN (8-Prenylnaringenin) and has demonstrated a high structural similarity to oestrogen. The hop extract we use comes from Lifenol® and is supported by scientific studies.
