

Flavogen Biphase II 60 Capsules Drasanvi

SKU: 032050629 EAN13: 8436578545148

Description

Given the success of Flavogen Biphase, we have decided to release Flavogen Phase II, which helps regulate hormonal activity.

The consumption of Flavogen Phase II is recommended after 3-4 months of Flavogen Biphase* consumption or when it ceases to have an effect on our body.

Flavogen Biphase II, like its predecessor is two products in one, the day capsules present in their composition Saffron (Safr'inside™), an extract with studies, that combines with the phytoestrogenic action of Sage, to help to the comfort of menopause. On the other hand, the night capsules provide new phytoestrogens, which come from Fenugreek and California poppy that helps to fall asleep.

Additional Information

2 products in 1

Not all times of the day are the same, during the day we have different needs than at night. That is why Flavogen® Biphase II, is a supplement that gathers in the same container capsules especially to consume during the day and capsules indicated for the night.

Soya free

Flavogen® Biphase II, unlike many other products designed to regulate hormonal activity, does not incorporate soy in its formula. This makes it possible for all people who for various reasons cannot consume soya to find an alternative.

With saffron (Safr'inside™)

Flavogen® Biphase II, incorporates in its composition Safr'inside, an extract with studies on the effects and comfort of menopause.
