Additional Information

2 products in 1

Not all times of the day are the same, during the day we have different needs than at night. That is why Flavogen® Biphase III, is a supplement that gathers in the same container capsules especially to consume during the day and capsules indicated for the night.

Soya free

Flavogen® Biphase III, unlike many other products designed to regulate hormonal activity, does not incorporate soya in its formula. This makes it possible for all people who for various reasons cannot consume soya to find an alternative.
