Cosmetic Table

Component	Action	Effect
Biotin	It constitutes an essential vitamin in hair growth and health. A lack of it is associated with alopecia processes.	They help to strengthen the hair root, strengthening it and facilitating its growth.
Aloe Vera	Penetrates easily opening the pores, facilitating access to beneficial substances, and also achieves a deep cleaning of hair impurities.	Facilitates the nutrition and regeneration of the hair. Eliminates impurities, facilitating hair oxygenation.
Thiolysin Complex	Thanks to the sulfur bonds that bind to the amino acids of the skin's glycoproteins, it helps to decrease fat production.	Sebum-regulating effect.
Quillaya Extract	It contains saponins, which have detergent and tannin effects, with astringent activity.	Astringent and sebum regulator.
Quina Extract	Due to its tannin content, it acts as an astringent and purifier.	Purifying and astringent
