Description

The marigold is a plant widely used for ornamental purposes. Its showy flowers fill any corner in a striking and colourful way. It is a typical plant of the Mediterranean basin that we can easily find in wild meadows. In recent years, it has been gaining prominence, not only for its ornamental aspect, but also for its skin-soothing properties, making it a first-choice remedy for any skin irritation, especially for sensitive skin, such as that of babies or the elderly.

The vegetable oil of Calendula by Vitaroms is obtained by the maceration of its flowers in a base oil BIO. This assures us to have all the properties that the plant offers us and, in addition, all the benefits of a BIO base oil, which contains all its fatty acids, minerals and vitamins intact.
